AGMs for the HGI and the Human Givens Foundation will be held over the weekend.

You are invited to attend the third Human Givens Conference:

Healthy minds in a changing world

For anyone interested in the fundamental connection between psychology, psychotherapy and education – the human givens – and committed to making a difference, this promises to be the year's most thought-provoking and stimulating event.

Although it is only ten years since the term 'human givens' was first coined, the take up of the rich ideas encompassed by it has been phenomenal. Now countless people in a wide range of fields, including the NHS, education and social services, use this holistic framework to improve their work and the lives of their clients, often dramatically.

As well as celebrating this anniversary, this year's conference is a great chance to meet up with old friends, make new ones and hear about, and be inspired by, the ongoing work of your peers.

New discoveries about the origin of mental illness and how to enhance emotional wellbeing will be presented, along with fascinating case histories and descriptions of the visionary 'whole community' work many HGI members are involved in. Not to be missed.

Programme topics to include:

- Human givens: not a new branch of psychology but its missing trunk
- How to create schizophrenia in 24 hours!
- Amazing transformations: working with molar memories
- Hope for the future: using the HG approach in schools
- Why emotional arousal is the handmaiden of tyranny
- Case histories from HG practitioners
- What does the human givens approach bring to ethics?
- Crime and young people: the inside story
